FOREWORD

FOSIM in 2006:

Suppressing corruption and nationalism, supporting local development

The year 2006 was marked by the Parliamentary Elections dated on July 5th. The elections resulted with a defeat for the governing coalition “Together for Macedonia”, led by the Social Democratic Union of Macedonia (SDSM), and the victory of the coalition “For Better Macedonia”, led by the political party VMRO-DPMNE of the young leader Nikola Gruevski, who became new Prime minister.

Although the new Government's main objectives were to improve the standard of living by means of economic growth, to increase employment, to fight corruption, democracy development, to improve interethnic relations and political stability, and to accelerate the integration into EU and NATO, there were no clear indicators that these would be achieved. On the contrary, the new Government showed early signs of being vulnerable for corruption, nepotism and discrimination.

In 2006, the Fifth anniversary of the signing of the Framework Agreement in Ohrid was marked. Aiming to suppress the nationalistic mythologisation of the 2001 conflict which leads toward further polarization among Macedonians and Albanians, FOSIM initiated the project Demythologization of 2001 - History and Apocrypha, compiling precise chronology of political and military events, bibliography of books and comprehensive texts on the conflict, published in Macedonia and abroad, and oral history.

FOSIM put a lot of its efforts to contribute to the improvement of the Law on Citizens' Associations and Foundations and development of the National Strategy for Cooperation between the Government and the Non-Governmental Sector, scheduled for the next year.

The growing cooperation between local authorities and the non-governmental sector was one of the positive trends in 2006. The 12 NGO Support Centres operate (project implemented by FOSIM and financed in partnership with the Swiss Agency for Development and Cooperation - SDC and the European Agency for Reconstruction - EAR) operating for several years with donors' support, started to search for their sustainability paths. FOSIM provided advocacy and lobbying activities proved to be successful for 9 out of the 12 Centres. The local and central government provide free-of-charge premises, and in some cases cover their electricity, water and heating costs. By the end of 2006, all 12 Centres were registered as legal entities with missions stemming from the local context.

FOSIM's priorities in 2006 were structured to response those burning issues in the country, but as well as to fulfil the gaps of the Government's intervention.

The mission of FOSIM aims at internal integration of Macedonia as a prerequisite for EU integration. The Foundation's priorities defined in the 2006 Strategy organically stem from its mission in the period when EU integration seemed far away, while the europeanization of Macedonia inevitable. Those are:

- Mapping and Screening of State Institutions, Analysis and Promotion of Assessment of Good Governance Potential in Macedonia - cross-program priority for 2006-2008;
- Integration of Roma - in education, health care, civil society and economic reform program areas; FOSIM is the leading player working (designing and implementing projects) on Roma inclusion at all levels of education; in July 2006, USAID approved additional USD 1,381,000 for the extension of Roma Education Project for the period September 2007 - May 2011; The Royal Dutch Embassy in Skopje granted FOSIM 2,007,100 Euro for the Project “Equal Educational Opportunities for Roma Children” for the school years 2006/7, 2007/8 and 2008/9;
- Decentralization and Development of Local Democracy - in public administration, civil society, law and information program areas;
- Affirmation of European Values and Standards - in all program areas.

FOSIM's strategic approach in achieving its goals is the following: long-term partnerships and fund-raising; further reducing the grant-giving operation and increasing operational activities; training and monitoring central and local administration; and research and public policies.

Programs

Roma (Inter-program Initiatives)

Although FOSIM does not have a separate Roma Program, projects addressing this target group (one of FOSIM's priorities) are developed in all of its programs. To make FOSIM's Roma initiatives more visible, Roma projects are clustered under one title in this Report.

Roma Education Program - REP

- Implementing organizations: Dendo Vas, Skopje; Soncogledi, Skopje; Drom, Kumanovo; Kham, Kumanovo; Aid for the Handicapped and Poor, Prilep; Foundation for Educational and Cultural initiatives Step by Step, Skopje; 10 primary schools in Skopje, Kumanovo, Prilep and Bitola, 57 secondary schools throughout Macedonia, and FOSIM
- Donors: USAID; Pestalozzi Children's Foundation; OSCE; FOSIM; Hungarian Embassy; Roma Education Initiative, Budapest, and Roma Education Fund, Budapest
- Partner: Ministry of Education and Science - Bureau for Development of Education
- Aim: to help Roma students remain in the school system and improve their school performance and attendance, through positive interventions at all levels of education

The Roma Education Program went into the third year of implementation. It is structured in four components: pre-school, primary school, secondary school and university component.

The pre-school component is implemented by five Roma education centers (RECs) located in Roma settlements and managed by non-governmental organizations. 218 Roma children have further developed their social and cognitive skills, cultural and hygiene habits learnt Macedonian language and gained basic knowledge in mathematics. As a result, the number of pre-school children in targeted communities who started the formal primary education on time has increased, as well as the interest of parents who actively participated in RECs activities. This component was financed by FOSIM and USAID.

The primary school component is implemented in both regular primary schools and non-formal Roma education centers. 354 Roma children from I-IV grade and 239 children from V-VIII grade from 5 primary schools[2] received after school educational support in RECs on a daily basis in homework writing, preparation for school tests and tutoring in subjects with lower achievements. The parents' meetings organized by RECs with 466 parents participating enabled greater involvement and improved information of parents on their children's progress at school. 50 REC educators and 200 teachers from the primary schools included in the project were trained in child-centered methodology, innovative teaching and learning techniques, social inclusion, and cooperation with parents. A working manual was developed for RECs, integrating good practices and lessons learned from the work with Roma children and youth, and the parents. The schools were also supplied with didactical material. The evaluation on the effects of the centers' activities showed an increased retention rate of 97.9% of the V-VIII grade Roma students visiting the RECs which is 6.7% higher than last year (91.2% in 2004/5). There were no drop outs among these students. They attended school more regularly and achieved better average result compared to Roma students not visiting the Centers. This component was financed by USAID, Pestalozzi Children's Foundation, FOSIM and REI, Budapest.

The secondary school component enabled 247 third-year high school Roma students to receive scholarships and school-based mentorship assistance by 111 teachers in 58 schools included in the program. The additional academic support enabled them to expand their knowledge and interests by participating in winter and summer schools on various topics (presentation and communication skills, leadership, street law, etc.). Those who have achieved high average at school were given the opportunity to attend English language and computer literacy courses. Roma Education Centers Dendo Vas in Skopje, Vrama Si in Kumanovo and Romano pro Angle in Prilep organized additional activities (educational workshops, debates, clubs, English language and computer literacy courses) for 150 students, as well as tutor assistance for students who were not program beneficiaries. The Centers also organized affirmative actions on secondary education enrollment. The evaluation of the secondary component of the Program showed a retention rate of 96.3% among scholarship beneficiaries which is 17.3% higher than the retention rate determined with the base-line study performed prior to the Program's initiation (79%). The average school performance of participating students has also improved from 3.11 at the end of the academic year 2004/5 to 3.42 (on a scale from 1 to 5) at the end of the academic year 2005/6. This component was financed by the USAID and FOSIM.

The university component was implemented by the FOSIM's operational program Romaversitas. 48 Roma students were given scholarships for the academic 2005/6 year. The Program also provided mentorship assistance by junior university professors and outstanding students from higher years. The students attended 6 academic training modules on correspondence, academic writing, types of essays, Macedonian labor market's competitiveness, drafting CVs and preparation for interview, time management, complex text reading techniques, scientific research methodology, as well as a five-day summer school on public policy making. 25 students were given the possibility to additionally attend English language courses. The evaluation study showed that 87.5% of the Roma scholarship students completed the academic 2005/6 year on time and moved to the next year compared to the 55.5% from the last year. This represents an increase of 35.5% of the transition rate determined with the base-line study prior to the Program's initiation (52%). This component was supported by the USAID, FOSIM and the Roma Education Fund from Budapest.

Alliance for Inclusion of Roma in Education

- Implementing organization: FOSIM
- Donor: Roma Education Fund, Budapest
- Partners: Ministry of Education and Science of the Republic of Macedonia - Department for Promotion and Development of Education in the Languages of Minorities; Bureau for Development of Education; and 76 secondary schools in 25 cities in the country.
- Aim: to improve the retention and achievement rate of targeted Roma students enrolled in secondary education; to increase the number of Roma with completed secondary education in the country as well as to improve the transition rate of Roma students from secondary to university education.

The Alliance for Inclusion of Roma in Education project went into the second year of its implementation. The following activities were preformed by the end of the year:

The scholarship and mentorship schemes were renewed; 499 out of 657 Roma students included in the project last year (2005/6) continued to receive scholarship and mentoring support in the academic year 2006/7; 436 of them are in the second year of secondary education. The average school performance was the basis for scholarship renewal. Respectively, 242 high-school students with an average mark of 3.00 and higher received full scholarships of 480 EUR and 194 high-school students with average performance below 3.00 received partial scholarship of 100 EUR. 63 high-school students in the fourth year of secondary education achieving the requested average of 3.50 and higher received full scholarship of 480 EUR; 115 high school teachers who served as mentors continued their mentorship work. The regional advisors from the Bureau for Development of Education were overseeing the work of the mentors and the progress made by the participating high-school students.

The evaluation study on the effects of the project conducted at the end of the 1st (2005/6) project year showed the following results: increased enrollment rate of Roma primary school graduates to secondary education from 59.5 % in 2004/5 to 82.8% in 2005/6; increased retention and achievement rate of targeted Roma high school students: 91.8% of the 1st year scholarship recipients successfully completed the school year, which is 2.8% higher than the gross national retention rate for secondary education of 89%[3] as well as 12.3 % higher than the retention rate of Roma secondary school students from the previous (base-line) years of 79%; considerable decrease in the drop-out rate among 1st year high school students from 16% (in 2002/3) to only 2% (at the end of 2005/6); increased school related motivation and self-confidence among participating Roma students; many students reported that they had received considerable psychological support in terms of getting attention, guidance, and encouragement for a better future by their mentors; and improved possibility of transition to higher education - at least half of the Roma scholarship recipients who graduated from four year secondary schools entered universities.

Assessment of Macedonia's Good Governance Potential Program

The aim of this project is to raise the awareness of the concepts of public interest and good governance; to identify the 'grey zones' in the decision-making process by applying the good governance principles and thus limit manipulations and corruption. Considering the status of Macedonia as a EU candidate-country, the good governance principles have become even more important.

Assessment Of Macedonia's Good Governance Potential

- Implementing organizations: Metamorphosis, ministries and FOSIM
- Donor: FOSIM
- Partner: General Secretariat of the Government of the Republic of Macedonia

This 3-year project started in May 2006, and the broad-based public debate "Does Macedonia have good governance potential?" was publicly launched 6th June 2006.
The designed three project phases (horizontal and vertical analyses of state central government and Guide for Citizens) were quite enlarged due to positive changes and defined activities of the General Secretariat of the Government of Macedonia for building open government. Further discussions with the General Secretariat led to signing the Cooperation Agreement (13 June, 2006 - December 2008) including the 5 components:

- Citizens' Guide through Institutions (in 6 languages and CD version; contents - competences, services and legislation) and Public Administration Guide
- ICT Component (Analysis of the five most used portal services; IT TNA for civil servants; ICT standards; and Human resource support to the IT sector at the General Secretariat)
- Transfer of general competences in ministries
- Code of Conduct for Ministers and Public Officials
- Vertical analysis of a ministry according to the good governance principles

By the end of June, new promotional activities were envisaged: good governance portal, e-newsletter, and awards for central institutions in 2007 and 2008. Completed activities are as follows:

Analysis of Macedonia's Good Governance Potential - 8 areas of citizens' interest were defined, each with specific segments to be in-depth analyzed. Coordination body was established, consisting of team leaders of working group for each area (with exception of the 8th working group), whose role was to identify the segment to be subject of the analysis, to develop methodology and analysis indicators, conduct analysis, identify the 'grey zones' and provide recommendations for improvement.

The analyzed areas and its segments are:

- Economy - government economic measures and policies and corporate governance
- Judiciary reforms - new court organization, judges, court procedures (civic and criminal), Judicial Council, Academy for Training Judges and Public Prosecutors
- Social issues - provision of social benefits
- Local government - execution of decentralized competences for urban planning, tax administration and utility fees, and culture
- Health - public health functions of the Ministry of Health
- Education - analysis of functions at central, institutional, and local levels in primary, secondary, and high education
- Human rights - discrimination protection according to ethnicity, gender, and employment
- Monitoring the management of public funds - monitoring the central budget, public funds, and budget-users including spending procedures, expenditure controls and human resources.

The complete analysis is expected at the end of 2007.

Agreement on Cooperation with the General Secretariat of the Government of the Republic of Macedonia - The first two components of the Cooperation Agreement were immediately put into implementation. The rest were planned as of 2007 considering the upcoming Parliamentary elections and possible Government changes and consequently, replacements.

Citizens' Guide through Institutions - Initially, contacts were made with all contact points from ministries to set up the organizational structure; however, activities slowed down after the elections and the replacements of state secretaries of the ministries, contact points for cooperation, the new human resource deployment in all ministries, and the announced changes of certain procedures and services. Regardless of these changes, some ministries (Ministry of Interior and Ministry for Environment and Physical Planning) gave their best to fully explain the services they provide and include the envisaged changes in the procedures for 2007 (e.g. new passports, IDs).

ICT Component - An agreement was signed with Metamorphosis foundation for the implementation of this component. ICT working group was established and divided into 3 subgroups for the 3 abovementioned activities. The subgroups developed action plans and the planned results and recommendations are expected in June 2007. September-December period included: defined criteria and identified the five most requested services, developed e-questionnaire related to these identified services for both citizens and administration, developed e-questionnaire and printed version for IT TNA, software for processing questionnaires, defined ICT standards groups and starting principles, identified and categorized standards assessing their applicability, and developed draft document with necessary intra-communication elements.

The project engaged 3 IT assistants employed within the IT sector of the General Secretariat due to insufficient capacity. As they were satisfied with their timely meeting of obligations, the IT sector contributed to their further education providing CISCO courses.

To acquire knowledge and latest innovations in this area, the project funded participation on the 3rd Regional Meeting on ICT/E-Governance in Tallinn, Estonia organized by the E-Governance Academy.

Good Governance Portal - www.dobrovladeenje.org.mk; www.gg.org.mk offers information on the project, clarifying in greater detail the concept, definition, and principles of good governance. Moreover, the portal provides links for topic-related published books and articles, including the latest events worldwide.

Religious education

In order to contribute to the public debate and assist for informed policy decision of the Government, FOSIM has been pro-active and undertook commissioned advocacy actions. FOSIM supported a public opinion survey that has been conducted on a national level by the Institute for Sociological, Political, Juridical and Social Research. The survey showed that only 6,9% of the respondents think that religious education is missing in the national curricula. A qualitative research was initiated on the existing primary and secondary school curricula and textbooks which showed that there is already a cross-curricula approach of religion in terms of the presence, content and the way it is interpreted. A resource pack of comparative data and relevant information for the possible approaches towards the religious education across the EU and non-EU countries was also prepared. Based on both researches and the resource pack, FOSIM organized one-day round-table discussion where the representatives of the BDE, the universities, education practitioners, the political parties and the religious communities participated. The researches were sent to all members of the Parliament and Parliamentary Commission for Education. FOSIM advocated for cross-curricular approach of (non-confessional) religious education to remain and be strengthened, thus avoid negative effects and prevent indoctrination and segregation of children.

Information Program

The aim of the Information Program is to use new technologies, techniques and tools to empower civil society to become a major player in the process of information society development in Macedonia. In the framework of this Program, several publishing projects were implemented.

Free and Open Source Software

- Implementing organization: Metamorphosis Foundation,
- Donor: FOSIM
- Aim: Increasing availability of FOSS and raising public awareness in Macedonia about the benefits of using FOSS.
- Partner: Sloboden softver

The Free and Open Source Software (FOSS) project encompassed several lines of activities, aimed at making FOSS available to Macedonian public and raising public awareness about its benefits. The project continued the activities for localization of the latest version of OpenOffice.org into Macedonian through the engagement of the expert team (IT experts and linguists) for proofreading the translation of the user interface. In order to aid the translation of the help system, a translating marathon was conducted in cooperation with Free Software Macedonia leading to translation of 40% of the help files. After the completion of the proofreading of the user interface the Macedonian version of OpenOffice.org became available on its official website (mk.openoffice.org).

In parallel, translation and adaptation of a OpenOffice.org manual was conducted by the Metamorphosis team, serving the need of significant proportion of citizens for a tool for training and user support. The manual was published as free e-book and hardcopy book, available on the open market.

Macedonian and English versions of major FOSS programs, including OpenOffice.org and the manual, Mozilla Firefox and Thunderbird, GIMP, a number of utilities, and 11 games were included in the CD-compilation Get Your Job Done. The CD had circulation of 5000, and was initially distributed via a newspaper distribution network through the country. Citizens of Macedonia expressed significant interest in this product, purchasing 2500 copies at the price of 50 denars (approximately US$1, or half the market price of a pirated CD). This compilation was made for Windows operating system, enabling users of pirated proprietary office applications to switch, thus lowering the level of piracy in the country. The earned funds will be used for supporting of further FOSS promotion and distribution activities.

Part of the circulation of both products (the CD and the book) were then distributed to select audiences such as the participants of the International Conference e-Society.mk, and the participants on the FOSS Workshop of the same conference, respectively. The remainder was used for FOSS trainings and the Local e-Government Project, and a portion was donated to municipal ICT foundations (founded by UNDP) and to educational institutions.

Implementing e-Local Governance

- Aim: better public policy, greater trust in local government, stronger democracy, and enhanced quality of services for citizens.
- Partner: Metamorphosis Foundation, DAI

By supporting the implementation of E-Local Governance in 25 municipalities, the project aims to achieve the following objectives: better public policy, greater trust in local government, stronger democracy, and enhanced quality of service for citizens.

The first phase of the project finished by providing equipment (hardware and software)[8] to 25 municipalities included in the project. Also, training and certification of the system administrators of the municipalities was completed during March & April 2006, increasing the municipal IT capacity. The first phase also included development, installation and appropriate training for software for taxation, financing and urban planning in the 25 municipalities.
Based on the survey[9] done in April 2005 as well as consultations with individual municipal staff (mayor and IT engineer)[10] a priority list of e-services was compiled.
In the period of September to November 2006, on-site trainings[11] were delivered to the municipal staff. The training was delivered using the e-rider methodology and concept.

Public Internet Access Points (PIAP)

- Implementing organization: Metamorphosis Foundation,
- Donor: FOSIM
- Aim: Bridging the digital divide

A case study for successful transfer of municipal competences to other entities (NGO's, businesses, individuals) was developed based on the example of Veles & Orizari (a distant location of the Veles municipality). The case study will serve as a basis for developing a model which will then be replicated in other municipalities where Digital Clubhouses[12] are present. The aim of this project is to enable citizens living far from their municipal administrative center gain access to services without having to travel, thus decreasing their expenses. In December, 30 new computers were purchased and an open competition for establishing new digital clubhouses was announced.
Apart from the already established Digital Clubhouses, other entities meeting the defined standards[13] for becoming a PIAP will also be able to join the tof PIAPs. Moreover, negotiations with municipalities interested to implement the “Veles & Orizari” model has started.

National Strategy Monitoring and Evaluation

- Implementing organization: Metamorphosis Foundation,
- Donor: FOSIM
- Aim: Assessing the development of the information society in Macedonia and provide recommendations and guidelines for future actions.

Metamorphosis Foundation continuously evaluates the information society development in Republic of Macedonia. During 2006 the political landscape in Republic Macedonia has changed, bringing strategic discrepancy of the institutional approach (Agency or Ministry debate). This caused lack of political consensus on information society development present previously as well as low grade of successful information society projects during the whole year.
Metamorphosis Foundation was continuously evaluating the process of information society development, both by regular activities, research, membership in coordinative bodies and media coverage. The Gap Analysis of eGovernment in Western Balkans (March 2006) mapped the discrepancy of the e-services availability in Macedonia. Metamorphosis has joined the team to design the National Strategy for Electronic Communication and ICT, focusing on broadband and e-inclusion, incorporating strong civil society and business sector monitoring mechanisms over the strategy implementation during 2007-2010.

Membership in the governing and consultative bodies in the state Agency for Electronic Communication increased the level of transparency of the ICT regulation in Republic Macedonia.
Activities within this project are in line and in coordination with the Assessment of Good Governance Potential in Macedonia. Metamorphosis is implementing the ICT module of the project, working on defining ICT standards for government institutions and assessing training needs.

At the end of 2006 an expert team was set up working on a report on success rate and analysis of the projects envisaged in the Action Plan of National Strategy for Information Society Development as well as monitoring of the most important information society services indicators in the period 2005-2007.

The research was conducted during May 2006, involving 20 municipalities from all over Macedonia. The analysis, which took into consideration their lack of capacity and lack of resources for software purchase, led to conclusion that FOSS is good solution for the municipal software needs.

FLOSSWorld and tOSSad are both projects funded by the EU via the Framework Program 6, aimed at increasing the capacity of the European scientific and industry research sectors.
Presentation of Macedonian experience in FOSS-related policy development through the example of National Strategy for Development of Information Society, situation in local self-government units in Macedonia based on the research conducted in May and June 2006, as well as innovative ways for raising awareness for free and open source software, and Get Your Job Done FOSS CD at the Role of Open Source Software for the Development of Information Society Conference in Yerevan, Armenia at the beginning of November.

Media Words is an analysis of the content of the websites indexed by Najdi!, showing the trends in media coverage of certain terms during one year.
Metamorphosis supported a meeting of leading members of Macedonian blogging community and representatives of the classical media, discussing issues of public interest. This communication resulted in various cooperation projects between the participants and their colleagues.
During the spring of 2006, Metamorphosis initiated a project involving the “Website of the Day” column in the daily Vreme, and the staff of Institute of Informatics (www.ii.edu.mk) which enabled publishing of website reviews done by computer science students in the paper as activity for academic credit. In September, Metamorphosis started managing the “Website of the Day” column as contribution to raising public awareness about information society issues, especially usability and diversity, by publishing website reviews written by Metamorphosis team. As part of this cooperation, Metamorphosis logo and website link remains embedded in the template for the column in the printed edition of the newspaper.

After public call for participation and the completion of the pre-selection phase, the first event was held in the city of Ohrid, in mid- November. Divided in two groups, (basic and advanced), the journalists and the members of NGOs were trained for lobbying skills and techniques. Participants learnt more about possibilities of using advocacy activities as important methods for speeding up the Macedonian accession processes towards EU integration. Selected ten best participants at the training were invited to attend five days study visit in Prague. Participants learned more about Czech experience in EU integrative processes. Representatives of Czech civil sector, institutes, media, university professors, members of Czech lobby groups and Macedonian participants analyzed and discussed possibilities of further cooperation between the Central and South Eastern Europe in regards of EU enlargement. During the study visit Macedonian participants attended an international conference in Prague. Independent Auditor's Report to the Board of Directors of Foundation Open Society Institute Macedonia and Open Society Institute Macedonia

We have audited the accompanying consolidated financial statements of the Foundation Open Society Institute Macedonia ("the Group"), which comprise the consolidated balance sheet as at 31 December 2006, and the consolidated statement of revenue and expenses, consolidated statement of changes in fund balance and consolidated cash flow statement for the year then ended, and a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory notes.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these consolidated financial statements in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards. This responsibility includes: designing, implementing and maintaining internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error; selecting and applying appropriate accounting policies; and making accounting estimates that are reasonable in the circumstances.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these consolidated financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing. Those standards require that we comply with relevant ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on our judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, we consider internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements give a true and fair view of the consolidated financial position of the Group as at 31 December 2006, and of its consolidated financial performance and its consolidated cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards.

2. Basis of preparation

(a) Statement of compliance

The separate and consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRS").

(b) Basis of measurement

The consolidated financial statements have been prepared on the historical cost basis.

(c) Functional and presentation currency

The consolidated financial statements are presented in Macedonian Denars (denars) or ("MKD"), which is the Group's functional currency. All financial information presented in MKD has been rounded to the nearest thousand. In addition, as prescribed by the Group Accounting Policy, annual financial statements are presented in US Dollars ("USD").

(d) Use of estimates and judgements

The preparation of consolidated financial statements requires management to make judgements, estimates and assumptions that affect the application of accounting policies and the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, income and expenses. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

Estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimate is revised if the revision affects only that period or in the period of the revision and future periods if the revision affects both current and future periods.

There were no judgements made by management in the application of IFRS that have significant effect on the consolidated financial statements with a significant risk of material adjustment in the next year.

Notes to the consolidated financial statements

3 Significant accounting policies

The accounting policies set out below were applied consistently to all periods presented in these consolidated financial statements.

(a) Foreign currency translation

(i) Foreign currency transactions

Transactions in foreign currencies of the Group are translated to the respective functional currencies at the exchange rates at the dates of the transactions. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies at the reporting date are retranslated to the functional currency at the exchange rate at that date. The foreign currency gain or loss on monetary items is the difference between amortised cost in functional currency at the beginning of the period, adjusted for effective interest and payments during the period, and the amortised cost in foreign currency translated at the exchange rate at the end of the period. Foreign currency differences arising on retranslation are recognised in the statement of income and loss.

The foreign currency translations in the Group are made mainly from MKD, euro, United States Dollar ("USD") and Pound Sterling ("GBP"). The exchange rates used for translation as at 31 December 2006 and 31 December 2005 were as follows:

	2006 MKD	2005 MKD
1 USD	46.45	51.56
1 EUR	61.32	61.18

(ii) Presentation currency

The consolidated financial statements for the years ended 31 December 2006 and 31 December 2005 are presented in MKD as per the Company policy.

The exchange rates used for translation at 31 December 2006 and 31 December 2005 were as follows:

	31 December 2006 MKD	31 December 2005 MKD
1 USD	46.45	51.56

The following method is translating the consolidated financial statements of the functional currency ("FCU") of the parent into the presentation currency ("PCU") has been applied in accordance with IAS 21 "The Effects of Changes in Foreign Exchange Rates":

- Assets and liabilities for each balance sheet presented have been translated at the closing rate at the date of such balance sheet;
- Income and expenses for the statement of income and expenses have been translated using the exchange rate at the date of the transactions.

(y) Foreign currency translation (continued)

(iii) Foreign operations (continued)

- [illegible]

- All exchange differences arising from the above are recognised in other comprehensive income and accumulated in the foreign currency translation reserve.

(z) Financial instruments

Non-derivative financial instruments comprise investments in equity and debt securities, trade and other receivables, cash and cash equivalents, loans and borrowings and trade and other payables.

Non-derivative financial instruments are recognised initially at fair value. Subsequent to initial recognition non-derivative financial instruments are measured as described below.

A financial instrument is recognised if the Group becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument. Financial assets are derecognised if the Group's contractual rights to the cash flows from the financial assets expire or it transfers the financial asset in a transaction in which substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset are transferred or in which the Group neither transfers nor retains substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership and it does not retain control over the transferred asset. Any interest in transferred financial assets that is created or retained by the Group is recognised as a separate asset or liability.

Financial assets and liabilities are offset and the net amount reported in the statement of financial position when there is a legally enforceable right to offset the recognised amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis, or to realise the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously. A legally enforceable right may not be contingent on future events and must be enforceable in the normal course of business and in the event of default, insolvency or bankruptcy of the Company and/or its counterparty.

Accounting policies applicable from 1 January 2018

Trade receivables and other assets

The Group's trade receivables and other assets are classified as subsequently measured at amortised cost. Details of impairment of trade receivables and other assets are disclosed in note 30(b).

(aa) Property, plant and equipment

(i) Recognition and measurement

Items of property, plant and equipment are measured at cost less accumulated depreciation and any impairment losses.

Cost includes expenditure that is directly attributable to the acquisition of the asset. Subsequent expenditure is capitalised only when it is probable that the future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the Group. Ongoing repairs and maintenance is expensed as incurred.

Where assets have different useful lives, they are accounted for as separate items of property, plant and equipment.

Subsequent costs

The cost of replacing part of an item of property, plant and equipment is recognised in the carrying amount of the item if it is probable that the future economic benefits embodied within the part will flow to the Group and its cost can be measured reliably. The carrying amount of the replaced part is derecognised. The costs of the day-to-day servicing of property, plant and equipment are recognised in profit or loss as incurred.

Depreciation

Depreciation is recognised in profit or loss on a straight-line basis over the estimated useful lives of each part of an item of property, plant and equipment.

The estimated useful lives for the current and comparative periods are as follows:

Buildings	40 years
Vehicles	5 years
Computers	3 years
Furniture and Equipment	5-10 years

Depreciation methods, useful lives and residual values are reviewed at each reporting date.

(i) Leased assets

Leases in terms of which the Group assumes substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership are classified as finance leases. On initial recognition the leased asset is measured at an amount equal to the lower of its fair value and the present value of the minimum lease payments. Subsequent to initial recognition, the asset is accounted for in accordance with the accounting policy applicable to that asset.

Other leases are operating leases and the leased assets are not recognised on the Group's balance sheet.

(k) Impairment

(i) Financial assets

A financial asset is considered to be impaired if objective evidence indicates that one or more events have had a negative effect on the estimated future cash flows of that asset.

An impairment loss in respect of financial assets measured at amortised cost is calculated as the difference between its carrying amount and the present value of the estimated future cash flows discounted at the original effective interest rate.

Individually significant financial assets are tested for impairment on an individual basis. The remaining financial assets are assessed collectively in groups that share similar credit risk characteristics.

All impairment losses are recognised in the consolidated income statement.

An impairment loss is reversed if the reversal can be related objectively to an event occurring after the impairment loss was recognised. For financial assets measured at amortised cost and available-for-sale financial assets that are debt securities, the reversal is recognised in the consolidated income statement.

(ii) Non-financial assets

The carrying amounts of the Group's non-financial assets, other than investment property, deferred tax assets and assets arising from employee benefits, are reviewed at each reporting date to determine whether there is any indication of impairment. If any such indication exists then the asset's recoverable amount is estimated.

An impairment loss is recognised if the carrying amount of an asset or its cash-generating unit exceeds its recoverable amount. Impairment losses are recognised in the consolidated income statement. Impairment losses recognised in respect of cash-generating units are allocated first to reduce the carrying amount of any goodwill allocated to the units and then to reduce the carrying amount of the other assets in the unit on a pro rata basis.

The recoverable amount of an asset or cash-generating unit is the greater of its value in use and its fair value less costs to sell. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset.

Impairment losses recognised in prior periods are assessed at each reporting date for any indications that the loss has decreased or no longer exists. An impairment loss is reversed if there has been a change in the estimates used to determine the recoverable amount. An impairment loss is reversed only to the extent that the asset's carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined, net of depreciation or amortisation, if no impairment loss had been recognised.

(d) Employee benefits

(i) Defined contribution plans

The Group recognises a liability and an expense for contributions payable to its defined contribution plans. Contributions to defined contribution plans are recognised as an expense in the period in which the related service is rendered by employees. Prepaid contributions are recognised as an asset to the extent that a cash refund or a reduction in the future payments is available.

(a) New standards and interpretations not yet adopted (continued)

- IFRS 7 Financial Instruments: Disclosures (effective from 1 January 2007). The standard will require increased disclosure about the significance of financial instruments for an entity's financial position and performance, and qualitative and quantitative disclosures on the nature and extent of risks arising from financial instruments to which the entity is exposed during the period and at the balance sheet date. The Group considers the new standard will require additional disclosures relating to its financial instruments and management of associated risks and capital reserves.

- IAS 1 Amendment to IAS 1 Presentation of Consolidated Financial Statements – Capital Disclosures (effective from 1 January 2007). As an amendment to an existing standard, from IAS 1 it is expected the standard will have an immaterial impact on the presentation of the Consolidated Financial Statements. The standard will require significantly more disclosures, such as qualitative and quantitative information about the Group's capital.

- IFRS 8 Operating Segments (effective from 1 January 2009). The management of the Group is of the opinion that the standard is not applicable to the Group as the Company's securities are not traded in a public market. Nevertheless, the Group has decided to disclose segmental information in accordance with IFRS 8 in the consolidated financial statements for the year ended 31 December 2009. The chief operating decision-maker has been identified as the Executive Committee. The Executive Committee reviews the Group's internal reporting in order to assess performance and allocate resources. Management has determined the operating segments based on these reports. The Executive Committee assesses the performance of the operating segments based on a measure of adjusted EBITDA. This measurement basis excludes the effects of non-recurring expenditure from the operating segments such as restructuring costs, legal expenses and write-offs. Segment assets and liabilities are not reported to the Executive Committee on a regular basis. Inter-segment pricing is determined on an arm's length basis. Segment revenue, segment expenses and segment result include transactions between business segments. These transactions are eliminated on consolidation. The Group's revenue from external customers is derived from its operations in Turkey, which is its country of domicile. The Group's non-current assets are located in Turkey.

- IFRIC 7 Applying the Restatement Approach under IAS 29 Financial Reporting in Hyperinflationary Economies (effective for applicable companies). IAS 29 applies to any entity's functional currency that is the currency of a hyperinflationary economy. The Group does not have the currency of a hyperinflationary economy as its functional currency.

- IFRIC 8 Scope of IFRS 2 Share-based Payment (effective for accounting periods beginning on or after 1 May 2006). This requires IFRS 2 to be applied to any arrangement where the entity makes share-based payments but cannot identify specifically some or all of the goods or services received. The interpretation is not relevant to the Group's operations.

- IFRIC 9 Reassessment of Embedded Derivatives (effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 June 2006). This requires an assessment of whether an embedded derivative should be separated from the underlying host contract when the entity first becomes a party to the contract. The interpretation is not relevant to the Group's operations.

- IFRIC 10 Interim Financial Reporting and Impairment (effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 November 2006). This prohibits the reversal of an impairment loss recognised in a prior interim period in respect of goodwill, an investment in an equity instrument or a financial asset carried at cost. The interpretation is not relevant to the Group's operations.

- IFRIC 11 IFRS 2 – Group and Treasury Share Transactions (effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 March 2007). This requires a share-based payment arrangement in which an entity receives goods or services as consideration for its own equity instruments to be accounted for as an equity-settled share-based payment scheme, even if the entity buys the instruments from another party, or the shareholders provide the equity instruments needed. The interpretation is not relevant to the Group's operations.
